GREAT SUCCESS

Was The Dedication of The Christian Church.

Sunday, the 16th of November, 1913, will be remembered as a red-letter day in the history of the Christian church in this city. After more than a year's heroic efforts, the beautiful new edifice, costing $40,000, was formally set apart to the service of God on that day. The weather was unfavorable, but, as the pastor said, the congregation that had triumphed over so many obstacles had also triumphed over the elements. The congregation filled the spacious auditorium, and at the appointed hour the choir was in its place ready to begin the services of the day.

Rev. F. M. Rains, secretary of the Foreign Christian Missionary Society, was the dedicatory preacher. Mr. Rains has filled a number of important offices in his church and all of them with distinction. He has an unbounded enthusiasm in his work, a wonderful voice and a fine sense of propriety. He knows the world of business and is a careful student of its financial markets. He believes that the earth is the Lord's and the fulness thereof, and that it includes the silver and gold. His earnest sermon created the atmosphere for what was to follow—the raising of $10,000 to wipe out all indebtedness. The great audience remained from 10:30 until almost 1 o'clock, held by the speaker's interest in the occasion, which was his in no merely professional sense.

A bounteous dinner was served by the ladies of the church, to which 400 sat down. And there were more than 12 basketsful left over. The congregation provided well for the many friends and visitors.

The afternoon service was of a congratulatory nature, in which the Revs. Wm. Martin and D. Clay Lilly and the local pastors participated. It was a fitting testimonial to the fraternal spirit in the churches, no less than to the enterprise of the congregation. The communion was served, Elder Thomas E. Baldwin presiding.

At night Dr. Rains preached an able sermon on the "Progress of the Kingdom," which was supplemented by another helpful sermon Monday evening. The remaining indebtedness was raised by Dr. Rains at the close of the Sunday evening discourse and the formal, beautiful service of dedication, which appeared in our columns last week, was read.

The music, under the direction of the organist, Mrs. G. W. Pickels, was the best that has been heard in this city in many years. Much labor was given freely by the organist and members of the choir, representing the churches of the city, to bring the music to its high degree of excellence. The soloists did their work admirably, while the chorus work was almost without a flaw.

On Tuesday evening an informal luncheon was served by a few ladies in the dining-room, as complimentary to those who made such an excellent musical service possible.

The addresses of the week by Dr. Crossfield and Prof. Fortune, of Lexington, and Rev. H. C. Garrison, of Danville, were instructive and helpful.

These men have a wide reputation throughout the State.

It is a matter of regret that so many other attractions were in the city last week to divert the attention of the public, as it was hoped that all our townspeople would join with the congregation in making the week an occasion of more than ordinary interest. However, the entire event was highly satisfactory from many points of view.

The building is a delight to the eye and a well-equipped workshop. Among other things, it has afforded the entire community, regardless of creed or previous condition of servitude, an opportunity to discuss church architecture, to tell what should have been and what should not have been. None realize more than those directly interested the imperfections that would be remedied if they knew what they now know when the plans were drawn. With all respect to differing opinions, the leaders feel that the new is so vastly superior to the old church that whatever defects are apparent should be forgotten. Time will help the congregation to remedy whatever needs to be remedied.

The pastor, Rev. E. B. Barnes, wishes us to say that if the congregation will realize the ideal for which the building stands, all minor matters will readily adjust themselves. The whole community has a right to be proud of such a beautiful addition to the architecture of our city.

In an interview with Dr. Barnes, we learn that it is his desire to make the church useful not only to his own congregation, but to all classes, creeds and conditions. The organ is there for the benefit of the public and frequent concerts and recitals will be given free of charge. The congregation indulges the hope that their efforts in this and in other altruistic efforts will be appreciated. Frequently, speakers will be brought from a distance to instruct the public on some phases of religious or social movements which are at work in the world. As far as practicable the Bible school will become a university for the development of the child life in all that pertains to its moral and physical welfare. Plans are now being made to build up one of the strongest Sabbath-schools in Kentucky.

Circuit Judgeship.

From all that can be learned from authoritative sources, Judge J. M. Benton will likely be an entry in the gubernatorial derby. This has left open for discussion the probable candidates for the Circuit Judgeship in this district and that subject is being freely discussed in this city. Jessamine county's own son, who has served the county so well as Commonwealth's Attorney, appears to be the logical candidate, and deserves the elevation to the Judgeship. We have also heard Grant E. Lilly, of Richmond, spoken of as a probable starter. Mr. Lilly is one of Richmond's leading practitioners, and one of the best read attorneys in the State.—Nicholasville Argonaut.
